

Teradata Education Network

Teradata Education Network is a membership based learning community that allows you to harness the power of the internet and expand your Teradata knowledge at your own pace.

As the premier on-line learning environment for Teradata users, Teradata® Education Network is a membership based learning community that allows you to harness the power of the internet and expand your Teradata knowledge at your own pace... anytime, anywhere. Teradata Corporation offers two membership levels to meet your needs. Choose from the Teradata Professional Network or the Teradata Professional Network Plus memberships.

Also, the new Account Manager function assists in education planning and tracking towards group goals, and enables management to run reports on group membership usage, course status, and ROI.

Expand your Teradata knowledge and fully utilize your Teradata system with a Teradata Professional Network membership.

Whether you are new to Teradata or you are an advanced user, we have the training you need at every level. We will provide every user level with a breadth of opportunities to gain knowledge.

Why Should I Become a Member of the Teradata Professional Network?

- > Enables Teradata customers to condense their “learning curve” by accessing Teradata knowledge anytime, anywhere
- > Allows users to create individual learning plans by job role and certification levels resulting in a self-managed education plan
- > Offers advanced training through interaction with experts and other Teradata users
- > Provides flexibility and just-in-time learning available whenever users are ready or need to learn
